Xulon Press, United States, 2009. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 188 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .With more than 100 pages of questions and writing space, this workbook is like being in counseling, without being in counseling. It helps you and your partner work through many of the important issues in your relationship prior to getting married. By helping to identify strengths and weaknesses in the relationship, it gives you the opportunity to learn how to work as a team. It addresses some of the most sensitive issues in marriage, such as: Learning to Communicate Effectively Importance of Family History Comparing Personal Interest Intimacy and much more . . . It's fun, comprehensive, and insightful, giving you the best chance to know what to do before or after you say, I do. Leroy Scott, Jr. has been working with individuals and families since 1994. He has an undergraduate degree in psychology from the University of Central Florida and a master's degree in counseling and psychology from Troy State University. In 2006, he earned a master of divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary. He has been in private practice as a licensed mental health counselor in Florida for thirteen years and is also licensed as a professional counselor in Louisiana, working with individuals, couples, and families. During the last ten years, he has opened five Christian counseling centers. He is a highly sought out motivational speaker, preacher, teacher, and life coach. He has received several professional and community-based awards and recognitions for his work in marriage and family counseling.
